

UCSB Undergraduate Program Co-Facilitator

This position serves to co-lead the multi-week workshop series, Thriving, Not Just Surviving. They work with our dedicated programming team to offer inclusive, accessible, and appropriate program services to survivors. This role's estimated weekly time commitment is 4-6 hours and varies by time of year. Opportunities to engage directly with participants will depend on quarterly participation numbers.

Responsibilities:

- Participate in scheduled trainings before facilitating workshops
- Serve as a co-facilitator for Thriving, Not Just Surviving, a workshop series for survivors of interpersonal violence (sexual assault, stalking, dating, and domestic violence) which entails:
 - Regularly correspond with participants and potential participants enrolled in the assigned small group
 - Leading check-in and check-out discussions at the beginning and end of each workshop
 - Setting up the workshop space before each workshop
 - Providing relevant and appropriate emotional support and resources to participants, including during times of distress (ie. anxiety/panic, triggered by content, etc.)
 - Advocating for the needs of participants
 - Being mentally and emotionally present during workshops
 - Share regular updates and information on programs and teams with the Program Manager including a weekly debrief.
- Serve as an active resource for survivors and assist with connecting participants and community members to support services
- Serve as a co-facilitator in other program groups if needed
- Serve where needed to help select community providers, create program curriculum, select materials to purchase, and conduct survey data
- Share program feedback and constructive feedback on improvements
- Report to the Program Manager and the program advisor
- Attend at least 75% of biweekly team meetings, unless a scheduling conflict exists, in which case an alternative plan can be arranged

Expectations:

We are looking for a passionate UCSB Undergraduate student striving to be a part of the change they'd like to see in the community. We are looking for someone devoted to our mission to “inspire resilience in response to violence by promoting holistic community healing initiatives.” We understand there are a lot of expectations for this position, if selected, you will be thoroughly trained and prepared to take on each responsibility. We also offer continuous professional development and mentorship opportunities.

An ideal candidate should have:

- Strong interpersonal, leadership skills, and public speaking skills
- Google Workspace skills, or a willingness to learn
- The ability to see the strength in others and help everyone feel included
- Good organizational, written, and communication skills
- Good problem-solving skills
- Strong sense of commitment to the mission
- Familiarity working with survivors is preferred but not required
- An unparalleled passion and drive for supporting survivors of interpersonal violence on campus and promoting holistic healing at large

Questions or looking for another way to get involved?

If you have any additional questions about our organization, or the application process, or want to connect about the organization in another way, please contact us at:

apply@thethrivinginitiative.org.

For more information on The Thriving Initiative and our upcoming programs please visit our website at <https://www.thethrivinginitiative.org/> and follow us on social media (@thrivinginitiative)!

Apply at: <https://forms.gle/r49soZnphpkF6e6p8>